

Copprly Brings Premium Handcrafted Pure Copper Drinkware to the US Market

The authentic Ayurvedic wellness brand launches its lab-tested, 99.95% pure copper bottles and dispensers nationwide, offering US consumers a sustainable, health-boosting alternative to plastic.

California City, California Sep 15, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Copprly, a premium lifestyle and wellness brand, today announced its official expansion into the United States market. US consumers can now elevate their daily hydration routines with Copprly's complete collection of handcrafted, pure copper drinkware, available directly through their e-commerce platform with free shipping on all US orders.

As holistic health and sustainable living continue to dominate American consumer trends, Copprly introduces a product rooted in centuries of Ayurvedic tradition. The brand's product line includes artisanal copper water bottles, hammered water dispensers (Matkas), elegant serving jugs, and diamond-cut drinking glasses.

Unlike mass-produced alternatives, every Copprly product is independently lab-tested and certified to be 99.95% pure food-grade copper. The brand guarantees that its products contain no hidden coatings, toxic chemicals, or mixed metal alloys, ensuring a safe and authentic experience for daily use.

"We are thrilled to bring the timeless tradition of copper hydration to the US market," said [Name], [Title/Founder] of Copprly. "American consumers are increasingly mindful of both their personal health and their environmental footprint. Our handcrafted copper drinkware bridges that gap—offering a beautiful, eco-friendly alternative to single-use plastics while unlocking the natural, wellness-boosting properties of pure copper."

According to Ayurvedic practices and supported by modern holistic experts, storing water in a pure copper vessel allows the water to naturally absorb trace minerals. This simple daily habit is known to offer numerous health benefits, including:

- Supporting healthy digestion and gut health
- Boosting the immune system through natural antimicrobial properties
- Aiding in natural detoxification
- Promoting heart health and reducing inflammation

Copprly's launch collection features exquisite craftsmanship, including their signature Hammered Collection and Floral Meenakari designs, which serve as functional art for modern kitchens, home offices, and yoga studios.

To celebrate its entry into the US market, Copprly is offering Free Shipping on all US orders and a hassle-free 30-day exchange policy, ensuring a seamless shopping experience for American customers.
