Nantwich, Cheshire Sep 3, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Delamere Manor is celebrating a significant milestone as it marks 10 years of hosting weddings and special celebrations in the heart of the Cheshire countryside.

Known for its exclusive-use setting, elegant interiors and extensive grounds, Delamere Manor has become a popular choice for couples looking for a private and distinctive wedding venue in Cheshire. Over the past decade, the estate has welcomed couples and their guests for ceremonies, receptions and multi-day celebrations designed around each individual occasion.

Set within more than 100 acres of Cheshire countryside, Delamere Manor combines the character of a country estate with contemporary spaces created for modern weddings. Couples can choose from a range of indoor and outdoor settings, giving them the flexibility to plan a celebration that reflects their preferred style, guest numbers and time of year.

The venue also offers on-site accommodation, allowing wedding parties to extend their stay and enjoy more time together before and after the main celebration. This has helped make Delamere Manor particularly appealing to couples planning exclusive-use weddings where privacy, convenience and a relaxed atmosphere are important.

Over the last 10 years, Delamere Manor has continued to develop its wedding offering while maintaining the personalised approach that has become central to the venue experience. Its wedding packages include options for traditional celebrations, midweek weddings, twilight events and longer wedding experiences, giving couples greater choice when planning their day.

The milestone also reflects the work of the Delamere Manor team, who support couples throughout the planning process and help bring together the different elements required for a memorable celebration.

As wedding trends continue to evolve, more couples are looking for venues that offer flexibility, privacy and the opportunity to create a celebration that feels personal rather than formulaic. Delamere Manor's exclusive-use model allows couples to make the estate their own for the duration of their wedding.

Celebrating 10 years represents an important chapter for Delamere Manor and provides an opportunity to recognise the many weddings, families and celebrations that have formed part of the venue's story.

Couples searching for a luxury wedding venue in Cheshire can explore Delamere Manor's wedding spaces, packages and upcoming viewing opportunities through the venue's website.
