

Protect My Brand Launches Free Online Reputation Scan for Business Owners

Miami, Florida Sep 28, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Protect My Brand, a Miami-based online reputation management company, today announced the launch of its free brand scan, a five-minute tool that shows business owners exactly what customers, clients, and partners find when they search their name online.

For most businesses, the first meeting happens on Google. An old article, a bad review, or a stranger with the same name can cost a deal before the phone ever rings. Protect My Brand's free scan checks page one the way a stranger would, verifies which results actually belong to the owner, and maps the next step - whether that is removal under a platform's rules, a correction, or building stronger pages that answer what people came to find.

"Business owners work years to build a reputation and one search result can undo it," said Branden Condy, founder of Protect My Brand. "We start with the facts. If there is nothing to fix, we say so. If there is, we show exactly what to do about it."

The free scan is available now at <https://www.protectmybrand.com/>
