

RobinhoodNews.com and RobinhoodSports.com Add New Sections for Readers

Sacramento, California Sep 27, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Robinhood News Inc. Expands Free Sports and Entertainment Coverage

Jacque Ojadidi, President and CEO of Robinhood News Inc., today announced an expansion of sports and entertainment coverage on RobinhoodNews.com and RobinhoodSports.com.

The company has added new sections so readers can find more sports news, celebrity coverage, and fan-related content in one place. The websites remain free to read. No account is required.

RobinhoodNews.com and RobinhoodSports.com have published sports, celebrity, and entertainment coverage for readers who want news without a paywall. The new sections bring game coverage, athlete features, and entertainment reporting together so fans can follow the people and teams they care about on one independent network.

“Sports and entertainment belong to the fans,” said Ojadidi. “We added more sections so a reader can go from a game story to the people around the game without leaving the site. The service stays free, and more coverage is coming.”

Robinhood News Inc., based in the Sacramento area, publishes original and licensed sports, celebrity, and entertainment content through RobinhoodNews.com and RobinhoodSports.com.
