

The Next 250 Podcast is Focused on Building the Next Generation of Wealth

Dallas, Texas Sep 8, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Inspired by the nation's 250th anniversary and the establishment of Juneteenth as a National holiday, the podcast explores what true freedom means.

Executive-produced and hosted by Emmy Award-winning producer and brand strategist Daria Hookfin, who was instrumental in producing events and a national campaign that led to the establishment of Juneteenth as a National Holiday.

"People often ask why we are still walking for Juneteenth when it's now a holiday, and my answer is clear - we aren't free yet - true freedom will come when we generate wealth within our communities," exclaimed Daria Hookfin, host of The Next 250 Podcast.

The Next 250 Podcast has a bold mission to help one million businesses with the knowledge, resources, and connections needed to reach $1 million in annual revenue while strengthening communities through its partnership with Remoting.work

Remoting.work's innovative platform gives small businesses access to developing a team so they can create viable systems for growth. According to the Small Business Administration, businesses with employees have revenue that is 8 times higher than that of those without employees.

Businesses need to generate revenue, and while there are programs in place for businesses to access capital, there aren't any to access talent. By partnering with remoting.work, small businesses that can't afford to build teams are given resources to scale so they can.

Each episode highlights how remoting.work can be integrated into your business, no matter the field, as industry leaders, business owners, investors, policymakers, and visionaries share firsthand accounts of practical strategies for scaling businesses and elevating mindsets for sustainable growth.

Bonus episodes comprised of event recaps from all over the nation will provide in-depth views on how American businesses are unlocking wealth in real time.
