

Three Friends, One Dream: The Inspiring Journey Behind SVY Cosmetics

Founded in Mohali on April 5, 2024, SVY Cosmetics began as a shared dream between three friends and evolved into a story of resilience, growth and determination.

Mohali, Punjab Sep 8, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Every business has a beginning, but some beginnings carry a story that becomes much bigger than the business itself. For SVY Cosmetics, that story began on April 5, 2024, in Mohali, Punjab, when three friends came together with a shared dream of building their own beauty and cosmetics brand.

What started with friendship, ideas, conversations, and a shared vision gradually became the foundation of SVY Cosmetics. The three friends entered the world of entrepreneurship together, bringing their individual creativity, perspectives, and ambitions toward one common goal — to create a cosmetics brand they could proudly call their own.

The name SVY holds a special connection to those beginnings. It represents the names of the three girls who came together to start the journey. While the complete meaning behind SVY has not yet been revealed, the name remains an important part of the brand's history and the story with which it all began.

But every entrepreneurial journey changes with time.

As life moved forward, circumstances changed, and the three friends eventually found themselves following different paths. Due to personal circumstances, two of the founders chose to step away from the business and continue their individual journeys.

Their decision marked an important turning point for SVY Cosmetics.

The journey, however, did not end.

One founder chose to continue carrying the vision forward, determined to give the business the opportunity to grow and establish itself in the beauty industry.

What began as a shared dream gradually became a journey of personal determination, independence, and growth.

The path was not always easy. Building a beauty brand requires patience, learning, consistency, and the ability to adapt. There were moments of uncertainty and countless lessons along the way. Yet, instead of walking away from the dream, the decision was made to keep moving forward.

SVY Cosmetics would continue.

Step by step, the business began developing its own identity. New ideas, beauty products, cosmetic products, experiences, and lessons became part of the journey. What started as a small dream between three friends evolved into a story of resilience and entrepreneurship.

Today, SVY Cosmetics continues as a product-based beauty and cosmetics brand, focused on developing its product range and strengthening its presence in the beauty market. Through its online platform, the brand aims to make its beauty products and beauty essentials accessible to customers looking for products that fit naturally into their everyday beauty routines.

The journey of SVY Cosmetics is not defined by the fact that circumstances changed. Instead, it is defined by the decision to keep going when they did.

The friendship that brought the three founders together will always remain part of the brand's history. At the same time, SVY Cosmetics is now writing a new chapter — one shaped by dedication, learning, hard work, and the ambition to grow as an online cosmetics brand.

Perhaps the most meaningful part of this journey is that the original dream did not disappear when circumstances changed.

It evolved.

SVY Cosmetics began with three girls on April 5, 2024.

Today, that beginning continues to inspire a growing beauty brand with new dreams, new goals, and a determination to build something even bigger.

And the full story behind the name SVY?

That chapter is still waiting to be revealed.
