

Topside Well Service Offers 24/7 Well Pump Repair Across Marion County With No After-Hours Surcharges

The family-owned Dunnellon company diagnoses the actual cause of a well problem before recommending a pump replacement, and gives homeowners a firm quote before any work starts.

Ocala, Florida Sep 29, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Topside Well Service, a family-owned well pump company based in Dunnellon, Florida, is reminding Marion County homeowners that its emergency line is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. The company does not charge extra for calls at night, on weekends, or on holidays.

For a home on a private well, a pump problem usually means no water at all. That means no showers, no flushing toilets, no laundry, and on horse and farm properties, no water for animals. With the Atlantic hurricane season running through November 30, storm-related power surges and outages add to the number of well systems that fail without warning.

Topside responds to no-water emergencies, low water pressure, pumps that run nonstop or will not start, air sputtering from faucets, and pumps that click on and off every few seconds (known as short cycling). When a homeowner calls, a local technician answers the phone, not a dispatcher.

The company's approach is to find the real cause before recommending new equipment. A well that stops producing water is not always a failed pump. The problem is often a pressure switch, a capacitor in the control box, or a waterlogged pressure tank, all of which cost far less to fix than a full pump replacement.

"Many pump 'failures' are actually a switch, a capacitor, or a tank," said Chad, owner and lead technician at Topside Well Service. "We find the real problem, and fix it for far less than a replacement."

Homeowners get a firm quote before any work begins. For most pressure tank issues, the repair is completed during the same visit, and the technician confirms the short cycling has stopped before leaving.
