

Turn Your Passion Into a Profession: Get a 35% Discount on Your Dream Yoga Training

Yoga India Foundation Announces 35% Discount on Yoga Teacher Training in India

Rishikesh, Uttarakhand Sep 18, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Yoga India Foundation is offering a 35% discount on their Yoga Teacher Training in India programs. With this discount, the school aims to lower the financial barrier for those interested in turning their passion for yoga into a profession.

The Foundation's School offers both 200 Hour Yoga Teacher Training in India and 300 hour yoga teacher training in India. These programs are conducted at their ashram which is 100 meters from the Ganges River and in the fringes of Rajaji National Park. The programs are designed for students with various levels of experience in yoga practice from beginner to experienced. The training covers teaching of various yoga practices, yoga philosophy, as well as yoga anatomy.

Students that complete the training are qualified to teach various styles of yoga. The programs are conducted in a way that students are prepared for teaching yoga practices upon completion of training.

Being the birthplace of modern yoga, Rishikesh attracts many students for yoga teacher training. The Yoga India Foundation has established programs over a renowned teaching lineage, combined with the necessary elements of yoga teacher training certification, to provide internationally recognized programs. With such training, yoga teachers are equipped to work in the field of yoga and related areas across the world.

Students from North America, Europe, Australia, and Asia have journeyed to Rishikesh as the international popularity of yoga practice and profession has surged, the organization claims. Yoga India Foundation states that with the rising request for yoga educators worldwide, their teacher-training courses help its trainees get international recognition. This way, students are allowed to teach yoga in different countries, and in most cases, they are exempt from taking additional training.

The foundation offers 200-hour and 500-hour programs. The 200-hour program provides basic elements of yoga teaching and philosophy. It is a short program that lasts a few weeks. After completing the 200-hour program, one can teach yoga across the world. The 500-hour program is for those interested in advanced yoga teaching. It includes elements of yoga therapy and other areas.

During the training, students stay at the ashram. Thus, students are able to experience what it is like to reside at a traditional Indian ashram. Students practice and learn yoga and related areas, and further explore India's rich culture.

The organization noted that the discounted rate applies to a limited number of seats across its upcoming batches, and interested applicants are encouraged to submit their applications before enrollment for those batches closes. Batch dates, curriculum breakdowns, and pricing details are published on the organization's website at yogaindiafoundation.com.

About Yoga India Foundation

Located in Rishikesh, India, Yoga India Foundation is an accredited yoga teacher training school that offers 200-hour and 300-hour programs. situated alongside the Ganges River and Rajaji National Park, Yoga India Foundation has taught more than thousand of students from 90 plus countries on the art and practice of traditional yoga. This includes asana, pranayama, meditation and yoga philosophy. Students of all levels including first time teacher trainees and experienced yoga teachers are welcome to train at the school.

Media Contact

Yoga India Foundation

@yogaindiafoundation.com

09286778739

Nirmal B Block, Pashulok

<https://yogaindiafoundation.com/>

Source : Yoga India Foundation

See on IssueWire