

YSHUN Releases New Guide to Expandable Container Houses for Overseas Projects

The guide explains double-wing foldable container home layouts, transport, installation and customization options.

Huizhou, Guangdong Sheng Sep 1, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Guangdong Yashun Housing Technology Co., Ltd. (YSHUN) has released a new practical guide for overseas buyers, contractors, and project developers who are evaluating expandable container house solutions.

The guide focuses on double-wing foldable container homes, a type of prefabricated building designed to reduce transport volume while providing wider usable indoor space after deployment. It introduces the basic structure, common layouts, transport considerations, installation process, typical applications, and available customization options.

Expandable container houses are increasingly considered for temporary accommodation, worker camps, site offices, tourism facilities, emergency response and compact residential projects. However, selecting the appropriate configuration requires more than comparing exterior dimensions. Climate conditions, local regulations, utility connections, insulation requirements, interior layout and site access all affect project planning.

YSHUN developed the guide to help overseas customers better understand these considerations before requesting a solution or quotation. The content also explains the difference between standard container-style units and expandable models, including how double-wing structures are unfolded and prepared for use at the destination site.

“Customers need clear information before they decide on a modular building solution,” said a representative of YSHUN. “This guide is intended to make the early planning stage easier and help project teams communicate their requirements more accurately.”

The expandable container house guide is available at YSHUN’s official website. It provides an overview for buyers seeking a practical, transport-efficient, and customizable prefab housing option for international projects.

For more information about expandable container homes and project-specific customization, please visit the YSHUN expandable container house guide.

Media Contact

Guangdong Yashun Housing Technology Co., Ltd.

@yashunhouse.com

+8613123136266

N7-N10, 2F, Building 6, No. 6 Taixin Road, Taimei Town, Boluo County

<https://www.yashunhouse.com/>

Source : Guangdong Yashun Housing Technology Co., Ltd.

See on IssueWire