New York City, New York Nov 5, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - 5th & 7th – Zodiac Match introduces a new approach to online dating, using astrological birth charts to identify potential partners through patterns of reciprocal attraction. The app and website go beyond traditional dating apps by incorporating zodiac compatibility and exploring how two people's signs align in the astrological houses associated with romance and marriage.

At the heart of the platform is a distinctive matching system centered on the fifth house, representing romantic and physical attraction, and the seventh house, associated with intellectual connection and long-term partnership. The algorithm identifies prospective "Twin Flame" pairings when one person's sun sign (their main Zodiac sign) falls in another's fifth house while the second person's sun sign occupies the first person's seventh house, or vice versa. According to the platform's astrological framework, this alignment suggests a complementary bond between emotion and intellect, creating the potential for meaningful relationship.

To bring these concepts to life, 5th & 7th features animated, cinematic explanations of all 144 Twin Flame combination, insights into the 12 zodiac signs, rising-sign attraction patterns, and more. Users can refine their searches by age, gender and approximate distance, then connect through anonymous messaging or video calls.

By translating complex astrological principles into an accessible dating experience, 5th & 7th seeks to help strangers uncover an unexpected sense of familiarity, chemistry and understanding. Learn more at 5thand7th.org.
