

China Oil Painting Gallery Spotlights Four Hand-Painted Reproductions of Classic Masterworks

A Xiamen-based gallery presents hand-painted reproductions inspired by works by Johannes Vermeer, Gustav Klimt, Claude Monet and Vincent van Gogh.

Xiamen, Fujian Oct 26, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - China Oil Painting Gallery, a hand-painted oil painting reproduction studio based in Xiamen, China, is highlighting a selection of four familiar works from European art history: Johannes Vermeer's Girl with a Pearl Earring, Gustav Klimt's The Kiss, Claude Monet's The Japanese Footbridge and The Water Lily Pool at Giverny, and Vincent van Gogh's The Starry Night.

Although the four paintings differ in period and style, each is recognized for a distinctive approach to composition, color and brushwork. Vermeer's portrait is built around a quiet expression, controlled light and the contrast between the figure and the dark background. Klimt's The Kiss combines embracing figures with ornamental patterns and gold-toned shapes. Monet's garden scene emphasizes reflections, foliage and changing color across the pond, while Van Gogh's The Starry Night uses curved brushstrokes and strong blue-yellow contrasts to create a sense of movement in the night sky.

Recreating these works by hand requires more than matching the overall image. Artists must pay attention to color relationships, the rhythm of brush marks, the balance of light and shadow, and the way small details contribute to the composition. On canvas, these choices also create a physical surface that differs from a printed reproduction.

Based in Xiamen, China, China Oil Painting Gallery has specialized in hand-painted reproductions for international customers for more than 20 years. The studio's collection covers paintings from a range of artists and artistic movements. It also offers custom sizes for different display settings, including homes and commercial interiors. According to the gallery's website, paintings are made on canvas using traditional oil-painting techniques, and customers can review photographs of completed work before shipping.
