

CitizenSure Launches Spanish Freelance Visa Services in Dubai for International Applicants

Dubai, United Arab Emirates Oct 16, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - CitizenSure has announced the launch of its Spanish freelance visa and self-employment immigration support services in Dubai, helping eligible professionals, independent consultants, entrepreneurs and freelancers explore pathways to Spanish residency and work authorisation.

The service is designed for applicants living in the United Arab Emirates and individuals seeking guidance from across the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), South Asia and the wider Middle East, including Oman, Bahrain, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, India, Iran, Türkiye, Iraq and Lebanon.

As professionals increasingly explore international mobility, European residency and the ability to establish or continue independent professional activities abroad, CitizenSure provides Dubai-based case assessment and application support tailored to each applicant's circumstances, nationality, residence status and professional plans.

Spanish Freelance Visa Applications: Understanding the Available Routes

Spain offers different immigration pathways depending on how an applicant intends to work. Two routes of particular relevance to independent professionals are the Spanish self-employed work and residence authorisation, commonly referred to as the cuenta propia route, and Spain's international teleworking or Digital Nomad Visa.

The Spanish self-employed work visa is intended for eligible non-EU nationals who plan to undertake a professional or business activity on their own account in Spain. Depending on the proposed activity, applicants may need to demonstrate appropriate professional qualifications or experience, business viability, sufficient investment or resources, and compliance with applicable licensing requirements.

Spain's Digital Nomad Visa, meanwhile, is designed for eligible individuals undertaking qualifying remote work for employers or businesses located outside Spain. Certain self-employed applicants may also qualify, subject to the specific requirements of the international teleworking framework.

Choosing the appropriate route is an important first step. A freelancer planning to establish a business or provide services independently in Spain may face different requirements from a remote consultant whose existing professional activity is conducted primarily for overseas clients.

CitizenSure's Dubai-based service helps applicants understand these distinctions before progressing with a case.

Spanish Visa Assistance in Dubai for GCC and International Residents

CitizenSure's Spanish immigration service is available to eligible applicants seeking guidance from Dubai, including expatriates and foreign nationals legally residing in the UAE.

The service is intended to assist applicants in understanding the relevant immigration route, assessing their circumstances, preparing supporting documentation and identifying the procedural requirements that may apply to their case.

Applicants may seek guidance on matters including:

- Spain freelance visa eligibility and application requirements.
- Spanish self-employed visa and cuenta propia residence and work authorisation.
- Spain Digital Nomad Visa eligibility for remote workers and qualifying freelancers.
- Business plans, evidence of professional activity and supporting financial documentation.

- Passport, criminal record, qualification and other supporting documents.
- Document legalisation, apostilles and official Spanish translations, where required.
- Family-related immigration considerations, where the relevant route permits applications for eligible family members.
- Application preparation, procedural guidance and coordination with appropriate immigration professionals.

Requirements vary according to the selected immigration route, the applicant's nationality, residence, professional circumstances and the applicable Spanish rules. Individual assessment is therefore essential.

Supporting Applicants from Saudi Arabia, Oman, Bahrain, Kuwait, Pakistan, India and Beyond

The launch reflects CitizenSure's intention to support international applicants through its Dubai operation, with a service relevant to professionals and entrepreneurs across multiple nationalities and countries of residence.

For UAE residents, searches such as “Spain freelance visa from Dubai”, “Spain self-employed visa UAE” and “Spain Digital Nomad Visa Dubai” often reflect the initial stages of researching an application. Applicants from Saudi Arabia, Oman, Bahrain and Kuwait may similarly need to establish which Spanish immigration route is appropriate and how their place of residence affects the application process.

For Indian and Pakistani nationals, as well as applicants from Iran, Türkiye, Iraq and Lebanon, nationality, lawful residence, consular jurisdiction and document requirements may all be relevant to the process. The correct application route and submission arrangements must be confirmed for each individual case.

CitizenSure aims to provide a clear starting point for applicants who want to understand their options before committing to a particular immigration pathway.

A Case-Led Approach to Spanish Immigration

Rather than treating every freelancer as eligible for the same visa, CitizenSure approaches Spanish immigration through an assessment of the applicant's intended activities, existing professional arrangements and longer-term objectives.

The process begins with an initial review of the applicant's circumstances and the distinction between self-employment in Spain and qualifying international remote work. This helps identify the questions that need to be resolved before an application is prepared.

Where specialist legal advice or representation is required, the scope of support and the appropriate professional involvement should be established for the individual case. Visa and residence decisions remain the responsibility of the competent Spanish authorities.

Through its Dubai-based operation, CitizenSure intends to make Spanish freelance and self-employment immigration guidance more accessible to eligible applicants who are researching their options from the UAE and surrounding markets.
