ClearCadence Joins Integrass

to Advance Enterprise Technology Services

Company will build on its content management, process automation, and managed services expertise

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LAKE MARY, Fla. - September 28, 2026 - ClearCadence LLC is now part of Integrass LLC, bringing its enterprise technology experience into a broader business and technology organization.

ClearCadence helps organizations manage information, workflows, and business processes through enterprise content management, business process management, digital transformation, and ongoing managed services. Its team will continue supporting current platforms, solutions, and client commitments.

“ClearCadence has earned trust through specialized knowledge and long-standing client relationships,” said Arathi Rajagopalan, President and CEO of Integrass. “Our role is to support that foundation and help the business expand its services without disrupting the responsiveness clients expect.”

As an Integrass company, ClearCadence will gain access to additional recruiting, delivery, finance, marketing, and operational support. The companies also plan to evaluate complementary opportunities in workflow, service management, customer experience, and enterprise platforms.

Client service remains the immediate priority. Existing contacts and delivery teams will remain in place unless clients are informed directly of a change.
