Chicago, Illinois Oct 8, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - The Tradeshow Network is excited to announce the launch of its newly redesigned website, built to help exhibitors discover rental exhibit solutions that turn heads on the show floor without stretching their marketing budget. The new site puts a spotlight on the company's inline and island rental exhibits, designed to help brands stand out in crowded exhibition halls and pull prospects into their booth.

"Trade shows are noisy, visually competitive environments, and a forgettable booth gets walked right past," says a Tradeshow Network spokesperson. "Our new website was built around one idea: showing exhibitors that a creative, attention-grabbing booth doesn't have to come with a custom-exhibit price tag. Our inline and island rentals are designed to draw people in and make an impression, at a fraction of the investment."

The redesigned site makes it easier for exhibitors to explore rental options by booth size and style, with a particular focus on 10x20 and 20x20 configurations — among the most popular formats for companies looking for a high-impact presence without committing to a custom build. Visitors can browse a gallery of past exhibit designs, see how inline and island layouts differ in traffic flow and visibility, and get a feel for the graphics, lighting, and structural elements that make a rental booth feel custom.

"Every client's goals are different, and every show floor presents different opportunities," adds the spokesperson. "We work with clients to understand their audience, their space, and their budget, then design a rental exhibit that maximizes visibility and draws prospects in. Our rentals are engineered to be easy to ship, set up, and tear down, so exhibitors get a turnkey experience without the logistical headaches — and without sacrificing on creativity."

The Tradeshow Network's rental inventory spans a wide range of inline and island formats, from streamlined 10x20 layouts to larger 20x20 island exhibits designed for maximum floor presence. Pricing varies based on size, materials, and design complexity, and the company works with clients around the world to ship, install, and support their exhibits at shows across the United States.

Exhibitors interested in exploring rental options can now do so directly through the new website, or by contacting The Tradeshow Network's team for a personalized consultation.
