Evo Lawn & Landscape Provides Full Service Landscape Maintenance in Highland Park, IL

Evo Premium gives Highland Park homeowners one company for weekly yard care, lawn treatments, and seasonal cleanups.

Highland Park, Illinois Nov 18, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Evo Lawn & Landscape is enrolling Highland Park homeowners in Evo Premium for the 2027 growing season. The residential program runs from April through November and starts at $550 a month, or $4,400 for the eight month term. Evo takes responsibility for both recurring lawn and bed maintenance and the seasonal work that homeowners would otherwise have to arrange as it comes up.

One crew gets to know the property

A Highland Park home can have an open front lawn and a backyard that drops toward a ravine. Before service starts, Evo checks the grade, ground stability, and equipment access to establish which areas it can maintain. A shaded bed near the house or a stretch of lawn below a slope can take a different approach from the front yard. The company confirms the covered areas and monthly rate up front, giving homeowners a clear idea of what the crew will handle.

Regular visits give the crew a chance to see how the yard changes over the season. If grass thins in one spot or weeds keep coming back in a planting bed, homeowners can raise it with the same company that has been maintaining the property. Evo also coordinates the timing of lawn treatments and seasonal work, so homeowners have one point of contact when a question comes up about the yard.

What Evo handles during the 2027 season

The program includes weekly mowing and string trimming, with driveway and sidewalk edging as needed and clippings cleared from covered paved surfaces. Evo weeds and edges designated planting beds on a recurring basis. Lawn treatments include five fertilizer applications and unlimited spot treatments for lawn weeds as needed.

The seasonal work includes spring cleanup and dethatching, two core aeration visits split between spring and fall, and fall overseeding and cleanup. Evo schedules these services alongside the recurring visits as part of the same program.

Enrollment for Highland Park homeowners

Homeowners in Highland Park, Illinois 60035 can start enrollment by submitting their property address online or by calling or texting (224) 777-0061. Evo reviews route availability and property access before confirming service. Evo Premium seasonal landscape maintenance in Highland Park
