Four Decades of Business History and A $60 Billion Pizza Story Still on the Table

Behind a familiar pizza name is a history of business relationships, brand recognition, and a contested $60 billion claim that extends the story beyond the restaurant industry.

New York City, New York Nov 23, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Some business relationships leave a lasting impression. Others become part of a history that extends well beyond their original purpose. And when decades of business history intersect with a claim of this magnitude, there's more to the story than what's in the box.

For Gumby's Pizza, a business history spanning four decades is now part of a larger story involving brand recognition, commercial interests, and a contested $60 billion plaintiffs' claim.

The story reaches beyond the restaurant industry, with Fox Corporation among the names associated with the matter. Behind the familiar names is a history of business relationships and commercial interests that continues to draw attention.

“This isn't about a slice of the pie, this is about the WHOLE pie,” said Chance Hippler, Partner/Owner.

A $60 billion contested claim has been advanced by the plaintiffs. The figure does not represent a court award or an established financial obligation.
