What the Hostinger Black Friday deal includes

All three shared and cloud plans are discounted on the 48-month term. Each one comes with a free domain for the first year, free SSL, a 30-day money-back guarantee, and double the usual AI credits as a Black Friday bonus.

Premium, 85% off: $1.99 per month instead of $12.99. That is $95.52 paid today for 48 months. It covers 3 websites, 20 GB SSD storage, weekly backups, and 500 AI credits instead of 250. It renews at $10.99 per month.

Unlimited, 85% off: $2.79 per month instead of $18.99. That is $133.92 paid today for 48 months. It covers unlimited websites and mailboxes, 50 GB NVMe storage, daily backups, and 1,000 AI credits instead of 500. It renews at $16.99 per month.

Cloud Startup, 71% off: $7.99 per month instead of $27.99. That is $383.52 paid today for 48 months. It covers unlimited websites, 100 GB NVMe storage, daily and on-demand backups, and 2,000 AI credits instead of 1,000. It renews at $25.99 per month.

No coupon code needed

Hostinger confirms that Black Friday discounts are added to the order automatically. There is no promo code to copy or paste. Buyers pick a plan, choose the 48-month term, and the sale price shows up in the cart.

Which plan is the best value

For a first blog or a small business site, Premium at $1.99 per month is the cheapest way in. For anyone running more than three sites, Unlimited is the stronger pick: it costs $38.40 more over four years and removes the website limit, moves storage to faster NVMe drives, and adds daily backups. Cloud Startup fits agencies and busy stores that need dedicated resources.

Plan details and current prices are listed on the Hostinger Black Friday page.

What to know before buying

The lowest prices apply only to the 48-month term, and the full amount is paid upfront. Prices are shown without VAT. After the first term, plans renew at the regular rate listed above. The free domain is free for the first year only. A 30-day money-back guarantee applies to hosting plans, which gives new customers time to test the service.
